

As part of my commitment to enhancing the value I bring to our firm as a bid and proposal professional, I would like to attend an exceptional professional development and networking conference here in the Midwest.

The Association of Proposal Management Professionals' Greater Midwest Chapter (GMC) is sponsoring its 2022 GMC Proposal Fair from October 10-12 in St. Paul, Minnesota. This event offers one and a half days of educational sessions and networking events, including several topics that directly pertain to my role.

- Hands-on education and workshops
- Inspiring content from the proposal industry's leading professionals, companies, and keynote speakers
- Critical, team-building, and networking opportunities

BENEFITS

Attending these seminars in one place will save time and effort it would take to research each strategies and best practices independently.

In addition to bringing back fresh ideas and concepts from industry experts, I will also expand my professional network which can benefit project outcomes and potentially provide a source of great talent to recommend as our team continues to grow and evolve.

OUTCOMES

I am happy to provide a report after the event, to illustrate takeaways and experiences gained from the conference. These could result in valuable recruiting or training opportunities and implementation of best practices that could generate revenue for our company.

MY REQUEST

My time away would include travel to the event on Monday, October 10 through return travel on the afternoon of Wednesday, October 12. I am happy to provide a breakdown of the approximate cost for travel and registration. Registration for this event is $195 for APMP members and $220 for non-members. This includes meals.

Attending this conference is a rare opportunity for me to meet and learn from people who do exactly what I do, and I would immediately apply what I learn to my current projects.

I appreciate you considering this investment!
